

2024 Boston Summer Olympic Bid

BOSTON

I had the great opportunity to work with the Massachusetts State Senate, through Sen. Eileen Donoghue's office, to consult on the earliest steps of the exploration of a Boston bid. Following numerous discussions on the feasibility of Boston, the project moved forward to a full Bid team that would ultimately win the United States Olympic Committee's endorsement.

I continued to consult on International and Legacy matters for the Boston2024 team and shared expertise on partnering with Universities - a plan the Tokyo 2020 organizers implemented a few years earlier.

Ultimately mounting pressure in the city of Boston resulted in the withdrawal of the bid, forcing the USOC to switch gears and move forward with a Los Angeles Bid.

Boston proved once again that first-time bids are a challenge on numerous levels, not the least of which is local support.
